

LS460

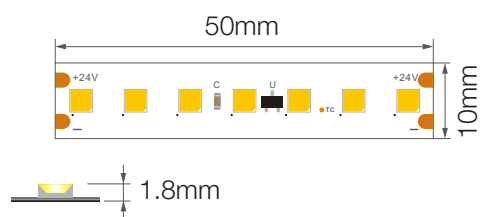

Sunlike CRI97 LED Strip

The LS460 LED strip is engineered for exceptional colour accuracy, featuring high-efficiency LEDs with a CRI of 97 that deliver light remarkably close to natural daylight. This ensures that colours, textures, and finishes appear vibrant, balanced, and true to life in any environment.

Perfect for applications where colour fidelity is critical, such as retail displays, art studios, galleries, and medical facilities, the LS460 offers consistent, professional grade illumination designed for reliability and long-term performance.
